

TRUE LIFE IN GOD, Vassula's speech no. 2
5-10 of May 2016 Loutraki, GREECE

For many years, God had been grieving while watching us from above all these years, watching how more and more people were falling in apostasy, pining away, and dying spiritually while Satan was blowing on us his poisonous breath. This is why His Love compelled Him to descend among us once more in this special way and free us from the bondage of evil. So, Here are His Own words: February/April 2003

"I said in the Courts of heaven, "I do not wish to watch endlessly and forever the sinners' death, grieving, but rather that he returns to Me and lives." "from above I saw a massive graveyard and the stench of the putrefying bodies was spreading in the entire cosmos... the world, decaying, is covered by darkness, swallowed by obscurity, so am I to see continuously My sons and daughters enslaved and dying? For how long am I to see My own Household torn asunder and riven? It is time, yes indeed, to separate the darnel from the wheat. I made an oath then and said: "I will give them through the power of My Holy Spirit, the grace for their hidden self to grow strong to anyone who responds to My graceful call, so that they may live in Me and I may live in them through faith. Then planted in love and built on love they will be raised to obtain the utter fullness of Myself."

"I said, in My infinite Mercy that I will shed light in this irrational creation to enlighten their minds and renew them by a spiritual revolution. I. Myself will lead them into this renewal of self and mind, leading each one in the goodness and holiness of the truth. My desire to save everyone burns in My heart. I will not turn My face away but I will teach each one and re-educate them. Yes, indeed, I, the Lord of heaven and earth will enkindle this earth with My love.

I will go and visit my prodigal sons and call them back to Me reminding them of this ocean of goodness, reminding them to put their trust in Me. With great tenderness I will teach them to practice good and never yield to evil. Then with sweetness I will re-educate them, respelling My Word to them with their vocabulary, to reach them more surely. In other words, My Divine Wisdom will adapt herself to their needs to make Myself understood in their so impoverished soul, giving them the Knowledge of salvation through the forgiveness of their sins and as the rising Sun, I will brighten their hearts."

In this message, the Lord is describing us like prodigal sons, just like the parable of the prodigal son, who had left with his inheritance and spent all his money. Then when he returned to his father asking to be forgiven we know how his father received him with great joy embracing him, giving him a beautiful ring and asking his servants to slaughter the best calf.

Jesus wanted to show us an image, a reflection of how God will forgive a repentant sinner and with what delight and joy He will receive him. He will never chase him away, He will never close the doors to his face, on the contrary, He will, instead, without the slightest hesitation forgive him instantly, He will welcome him with tears of joy in His Eyes, and all Heaven will rejoice to see someone who was lost, was found. 29-08.1989

“if you only knew how I am ready to forgive your era's crimes by just one kind look at Me, a moment's regret, a sigh of hesitation, a slight reconsideration; a smile at My Holy Face and I shall forgive and forget, I shall not even look at My Wounds; I will efface from My sight all your iniquities and sins had you one mere moment of regret, and all Heaven would celebrate at your gesture, for your smile and your kind look will be received like incense by Me, and that slight moment of regret will be heard like a new song by Me;”

It is amazing, the patience, the love and how quickly God forgives. God comes to revive what is dead within us and had been warning us many years back of the dangers and the tribulations that our world will be facing, warning us of our fatal enemy the devil. How he is deceiving the world as he deceived then Eve with the same lie, saying that we do not need God but that we can be like God ourselves. Christ with agony in His Voice cried out already back in 1988:

“creation! Beware of the devil, for his is redoubling his efforts to ensnare you and in the meantime pretending he is non existent so that he manoeuvres without being feared; O creation! He is preparing a large holocaust upon you. O how I cry from My Cross! Creation, return to Me! Do not let him ensnare you be denying Me!”

For years now, God is calling us to repent, but mankind refuses to brake with sin. He has been asking us urgently for acts of reparation. Our Creator has been asking us since many years to commit ourselves more to Him, but many are deaf to His Calling and still lie in apathy and in spiritual death. To be converted is not enough without acts of love, sacrificial love and steady prayers. There are various ways, the Lord says of showing God our love and generosity. He needs us to die to our ego and ourselves. He needs to hear a cry of repentance and a change of heart. He needs to see us reconciled and unified.

07.02.2002 “I have called you to reveal My unfathomable Mercy to all My children who still sit in apathy and in their own world of indifference. My persistent calls to repentance have not been heard. The world is creeping now even deeper in the mire of sin and in the shadow of death... the world already is tasting the fruits of its own course, provoking nature to rebel with confusions, drawing upon yourselves natural catastrophes, the earth is choking itself with its own scheming.”

In His Message, God is forming us to become Apostles of these End of Times through the teachings of True Life in God. These Messages are a magnificent spiritual school, filled with majesty and easy to understand because God Himself is our Teacher, adapting Himself to speak in our terms so that we understand Him better – but there are some who are like butterflies fluttering from one spirituality to the other and never producing fruit, and then there are others who treat the messages like a super market: pick and choose. What they consider too demanding from the messages they bleep over them and pick only what seems more convenient for themselves - this is what Jesus says about these:

“If this miracle, for a miracle it is when I speak, did nothing to you and you do not see it, how then, you, who have received so much, expect to enter empty handed in Heaven?”

"I need sacrificial love. How many are ready to sacrifice? Will the ear of anyone yield to My supplications? How many are willing to become peacemakers and sow seeds, which will bear fruit in purity? Who can remain uncontaminated by the world until My return? Who will be quick to listen? I am kind and ever so compassionate but very few want to be in union with Me. Who will give away his motives for My Motives? Who is willing to give up his interests for Mine? Who will seek what is least sought in this world and bear it with Love: My Cross? and who is ready to seek what is least sought among you, who will seek Love?" Pray for the conversion of the world."

We all want to do God's Will. But this needs the dying to one's self, the crucifying of one's ego. For the Holy Spirit, the Lord says, can never come upon a soul that is in debt to sin, nor can He make His way into a crafty soul. However, after repentance the Lord says, the Holy Spirit's light will glow inside our soul and will flow in the soul like a river, so it is only through this act that one can start being a docile instrument for God and do His Will.

Finally, repentance is making peace with God after a period of rebellion. While repenting with truthfulness each word that is uttered in this manner, the Lord says that it draws His friendship closer to the repentant. For His friendship ensues in proportion to the repentance given to Him. And finally the fruit we obtain from repentance is LOVE.

"My whole law is summarized in a single command: love. Had they followed my law and examined their conduct daily, they would have discovered that they are not living according to My Commandments. And if they tell Me, "how is it that we are not following your Commandments, how are we then to follow your commandments? Can we teach your commandments if we do not follow them?" I will tell you: "You are not following them because love is missing within you. The crown of My Commandments is love. To love is to live according to My Commandments." 5-29.8.1990

In the end, in Judgment Day we will all be judged according to the measure of the love we have had here on earth. And that is why Jesus said as in the Scriptures: 12.5.1990

"It is not those who cry out to Me, "Lord, Lord, who will enter into the Kingdom of heaven, but those who do the Will of My Father in heaven. So speak with love and I shall hear you! Give with love and I shall know you. Pray with love and the doors of My Kingdom shall open to you to receive you! Act with love so that I may tell you one day: You are Mine, your are My seed, come to your Father!"

Everyone who loves knows God. To love is to live in the truth. The greater the gift of love, the more your knowledge of God is complete. The more your love is ardent for God, the more your prayers are ardent. The more perfect your love, the more your life is holy. Love is your entry key in heaven. God says, "A true life in Me, is to be living the same kind of life as Christ lived. "Love is above all, to love is to do My Will."

Our lives should be revolving therefore only around God and around divine love because love unites the soul with God and the more powerful the love becomes, the more profoundly the soul penetrates God. I like very much this passage that Jesus said in the messages.

"I Myself came into the world to serve and not to be served. Although My state was divine I had emptied myself to assume the condition of a slave. No king has ever been known to have served his subordinates as I, who am the King of Kings served."

Jesus says: "Of what use are to Me their formalities and ceremonies when love is missing? Can a tree survive without a root? The root of My Church is love. If then love is missing, how can my Church survive? (6.7.89)
